BOY, 17, FORGES, THEN "REPEATS"

Twice at the Same Bank Proves Bad Policy.

AVIATORS MIXED UP IN IT

Boy Declares Woman Suggested Idea to Him, Furnished Names and Offered to Go Fifty-Fifty With Him—He Was to Forge the Signatures and Cash the Checks—Cashed $200 Check and Then Went Back With Another.

Lightning and forgers—that is, seasoned forgers—seldom strike in the same place twice. But Aaron wasn't a seasoned forger, so he and his friends are guests of the police.

Aaron S. Mashek is 17 years old. He lived at the Chalfonte hotel, Chicago. He is the son of a furrier. He was arrested Sept. 6 on a charge of passing bad checks on several banks. He was admitted to $3,000 bail in the boys' court. His friends paid David D. Cohen $100 to "go his bonds."

Now, Aaron thought it was up to him to repay that $100 to his friends. So he passed a check on the Greengbaum Sons' bank for $200. Then he made his mistake. He went back and tried to cash a check for $250.

Detectives McFarland and Cartan heard what he had to say. Then they arrested the following:

John L. Hinckley, former moving picture actor, former instructor in the Royal Flying corps, who was stationed at Benbrookfield, Texas, and who was injured in a fall of 1,400 feet some time ago; now known as a "carbstone auto broker."

His wife, Caroline, who, previous to her divorce two years ago, was Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Dixon, Ill.

David H. Tagney, Chalfonte hotel, son of D. H. Tagney of Jersey City Heights, N. J. He was also an instructor in the Royal Flying corps, and is Chicago manager for an Eastern millinery firm with offices in the Republic building. His father is a Democratic politician, and a member of the Wall Street brokerage firm of Tagney & Isley.

Accuses Woman.

"You see, I got out Friday," said Mashek. "Saturday night I went up to the Hinckley flat to get $30 I had let Hinckley take. Tagney was there. I got talking to Mrs. Hinckley. She was private secretary to C. M. Mazaar, wholesale confectioner, and she had a lot of canceled checks. She said she'd made out Mazaar's income tax schedule, and didn't believe he'd make trouble for her.

"She proposed that we go into partnership—fifty-fifty. She was to furnish the names, and I was to forge them and cash the checks. She gave me the names of Mazaar, A. R. Johnson of the Jefferson Electric company; L. L. Cook of the American Mercantile company, and others. I cashed the $200 check to which I had forged Mazaar's signature. And then I went back to the same bank. I was out of luck.

"Hinckley knew about the arrangement I made with his wife, but Tagney had nothing to do with it.

"That little fraud," said Mrs. Hinckley, when the police repeated to her the story Mashek had told them. "He lied to you."

The police questioned Tagney. "I was playing the victrola at the time," he said, "but I remember hearing the conversation. Yes, I don't like to say so, but I did hear Mrs. Hinckley say she would go partners with Mashek."

So they held Tagney as a witness.

SAVED CHILD FROM DEATH

Telegrapher Leaped on Engine Pilot and Pulled Girl From Track.

Clinging to the pilot of a passenger train engine, Frank J. Long, a telegraph operator of Malden, Ind., reached forward and pulled a four-year-old child to safety from the track as the train sped down upon her.

Long saw the little girl playing with cinders in the middle of the track as the train whistled into his station. There was scant time to act, and as the train passed, Long leaped upon the pilot of the engine, held on with his left hand, while he reached out with his right and saved the child.

HOGS GAINING QUALITY

Federal statistics for February, 1919, show that Florida ranks twentieth as a hog producing state, and twenty-fifth in estimated value of hogs on the farm. This is encouraging to those breeders who have been endeavoring to raise the standard of quality of the hogs in this state, since the Federal statistics for the previous year showed Florida ranked forty-seventh in the estimated farm value of hogs, and nineteenth as a hog producing state.

Field Agent Sam T. Fleming says that this increase in quality of Florida hogs will be greater during the present year than during the past.

Miss Harriet Smith, Y. W. C. A. Student Secretary in China, Relates Amazing Story of How 20,000 Students Organized Themselves.

By BERNICE GRISWOLD.

Miss Harriet Smith, for ten years a student secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association in Shanghai, China, relates the amazing story of how 20,000 Chinese students organized themselves to oust the militarists from Government offices in Peking and how they succeeded in becoming the leaders of China.

Fearing that China was not to be protected from the aggression of other nations by the Peace Treaty, as she had expected to be, some 20,000 students, all of them between the ages of twelve and twenty-one years and including 8,000 girls organized themselves into the Chinese Students' Patriotic Society immediately after the publication of the first draft of the Peace Treaty to fight for Chinese rights.

Their first move was to strike from school or, rather, from lectures, as they remained in their respective schools and spent so many hours daily in private study. They then organized into bands for getting out propaganda literature and for public speaking in the country and small towns and in the tea shops in poorer districts of the cities in order that they might reach the vast numbers of people who could not read.

Immediately upon organizing, the students published their demands, four in number: (1) that the militarists, who as a party were pro-Japanese and practically controlled the Government at Peking, be put out of office; (2) that Shantung be returned to China; (3) that the twenty-one demands made by Japan in 1915 be cancelled; (4) that there be freedom of speech and of the press. They also insisted that the Chinese constitution be finished.

An immense amount of literature was put out, much of it in the new phonetic script which is being launched in China, so that the uneducated classes might learn what was happening. Students lectured everywhere on the demands, stirring the people to patriotism. When many of them were arrested while parading in the streets of Peking they formed an Association of Imprisoned Students within the prison and refused to be released, picketing the stockade themselves when Government guards were taken away, until the Government submitted a proper apology for having imprisoned them in the beginning.

When it became evident that economic pressure was all that would be effective both the bankers' and merchants' guilds were called upon to back the students. "In less than two hours," Miss Smith said, "the shutters were up at every shop in that great city of Shanghai, where telephones are few and communication difficult. Every shop, whether large or small, was closed. The laboring people, feeling as patriotic as the bankers, merchants and students, also joined the general strike. For a week everything was closed—shops, money exchanges, fish markets, shipping, everything. The students struggled to keep public utilities running. The telephone service was stopped for a short time, but the students soon had it running again. They held meetings day and night, trying to keep the railroad employees at their posts and explaining that it was patriotism for them and for water works and electric light employees to continue to work. At the end of that week the students had won the first point and the militarists were out of power.

When suffrage in any form finally comes to China Miss Smith feels that it will be granted to both men and women because of the way women are helping to build things up now. Women students took an active part in all of this bloodless revolution. They had their places on all of the councils. Their part of the work was to translate much of the literature into phonetic script and when a boycott was declared on Japanese goods to begin production of goods in China.

"All of the students threw away their straw hats—purely Japanese products—at the beginning of their movement, and the women students set about making white duck hats, which were called patriotic hats and immediately became very popular. Then they began devoting themselves to the making of parasols and of talcum powder. Some of them paraded but none was arrested.

"China is the last country in the world to fear class feeling or antipathy, which seems to be gripping the rest of the world," Miss Smith says. "In China there is a wonderful social solidarity. People get together, not so much by localities, but by trades and professions. Every one belongs to a guild, and these guilds are wonderfully organized, as the Chinese have a genius for organization. Despite poor lines of communication, lack of railroads and telephones, these guilds hold closely together. Yet their organization has nothing to do with caste.

"With a leadership as highly organized as that of the students a great amount can be done. Leading men of China interpret the student movement as very significant—the forming of a new national party. It is the duty of all Christian organizations in China to give these students, who are now the leaders of the Government, every possible bit of aid and inspiration, as they need more than human help to bring China out of her difficulties successfully. The Y. W. C. A. is doing what it can to help the women students. All of these students have given up their vacations and are working hard throughout the summer."

Miss Smith has seen China change within ten years, from one of the oldest and most rigid monarchies of the world into a republic. She saw the first republican flags go up and feels that China has accomplished a great deal, fighting all the time as she has against the great odds of Japanese and European aggression in addition to the old monarchistic party. Given time, China will become one of the great republics of the world, she says.

Miss Smith lives in Richmond, Va., and is home on a year's furlough. She expects to return to China in the spring.

James B. Murphy and Ernest Sturm (Journal of Experimental Medicine) subjected mice to heat and a week later inoculated them with a strain of tuberculosis virulent for mice. These animals displayed a greater resistance than normal.

WOMEN WILL MAKE STAMP SALE SUCCESS

When the campaign for the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals is on in earnest hundreds of Florida's women will be active in the cause, as they are ever ready to give their services to any movement which means the saving of lives.

The women of Florida made a wonderful reputation during the war as there was no necessary propaganda in which they did not perform most effective services. The Florida Anti-Tuberculosis Association comprises many of Florida's most prominent men and women, and the women who are members of the State Association which has for some time past conducted an educational campaign, and which has also been the instrument of great good in every possible way in the battle against tuberculosis consists of the following:

Mrs. J. D. Alderman, Jacksonville; Mrs. T. J. Bachman, Bradenton; Mrs. N. B. Broward, Jacksonville; Miss Mattie H. Carpenter, Miami; Mrs. W. P. Corbett, Jacksonville; Mrs. Geo. W. Gibbs, St. Augustine; Mrs. William Hoeker, Ocala; Miss Kate V. Jackson, Tampa; Mrs. F. E. Jennings, Jacksonville; Mrs. W.

NEW YORK DRY TODAY

War Time Prohibition Measure Bars Even 2.75 Per Cent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—On and after today New York is going to be dry, or as nearly dry as war-time prohibition can make it. When one asks for ginger ale or sherry he will get just that and a wink to the bar-keep won't mean a thing. The skids will be put under the old 2.75, too. After that it will be 0.50 or in plain English, one-half of one per cent.

The reason for all this is that Daniel L. Porfiter, supervisor of internal revenue agents for the New York division figures that the war-time prohibition enforcement act becomes a law on October 20, having been sent to the President on October 10. He called a conference of newspapermen in his office in the customs house today to ask them to advise all thirteenth parlor proprietors to watch their step on and after today, because he means business.
